TEXT: Joshua 21:45

INTRODUCTION

Information is a master key that unlocks great opportunities, creativity, and innovations in every generation, even right from Bible days. The likes of Abraham, Moses, Elijah, Daniel, made progress and did great exploits because they were able to download and follow through timely instructions from God. Likewise, anyone who believes in the God of the Bible is expected to value information, for this is one of the basic channels through which we receive insight and inspirations from Him. (Matt. 4:4). As believers, the highest form of information is revelation, which is God's own knowledge dispensed to His people through the written and the spoken word. This is information beyond what natural sources can provide and the entirety of our faith is anchored on God's ability to perform what He has spoken and the infallibility of His word, (Heb. 6:13-18). God by himself has put priority on His own word and so also expects us to do the same (Psalm 138:2), putting value on the intangible over what is physical. Today's outline focuses on the integrity of God's word and prioritizing it above all else.

DISCUSSION 1

According to scriptures (Isaiah 55:11, Numbers 23:19), God cannot lie, nor His word fails; Mention instances in your personal experience/ the experience of others that God spoke, and it was accomplished. Are there times He has led you in a particular path which you follow through to achieve a purpose? Share your experience.

DISCUSSION 2

As believers, it is important to align our lives and values accordingly with God's plans for us and to anchor our trust on the integrity of His word. God keeps promises and He expects us to prioritize what He has said above everything else, no matter what the situation may be. Below are some information that can help set our lives on the right course:

a. Change your value system, prioritize the intangible over the tangible. Focus on your identity in Christ as it manifests into your reality. 2 Cor. 4:18
b. Value information on the natural level. Seek knowledge, read wide. Be well informed. Dan 9:2 (KJV), Pro2:10-11
c. Value revelations from God. This is the purest form of information. Build your life on what God says. Jer. 33:3

CONCLUSION

The most certain thing in an uncertain world is what God said. When we rely on the written and spoken word of God, to experience its trustworthiness for ourselves, it is something we grow to love. Since God's word is very pure, we certainly can delight ourselves in it. It has the integrity we can count on in any situation, giving us the confidence, we need. God has a track record of keeping His word and He's not about to start failing us now. No doubt, we can fully depend on Him in all aspects of life. You will succeed in Jesus Name, Amen.
